

Emergency Support – Richmondshire 2023

Financial Issues

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

Local Assistance Fund The fund supports vulnerable adults to move into or remain in the community, and to help families under great pressure to stay together. Awards are made in-kind, for example, by supplying household goods and necessities.

The fund provides practical support for vulnerable people who are moving into or seeking to remain within the community; for example, you may have recently experienced a crisis and need a few basic essential items to help you cope. You may apply for up to two awards of emergency food and / or utility top-up in any 12-month period.

For other items provided under the fund, a maximum entitlement of two items may also be awarded within the same 12-month period, only one of which may be a white good item.

To be eligible for support, you must also be able to demonstrate that you: are 16 years or over; live in North Yorkshire; receive a means-tested benefit or have a household income below the low income threshold (currently £16,105) and less than £1,000 in capital; or have a need that cannot be met from other forms of support.

Submitting an application

Applications are made through authorised agencies that will provide support to those who are eligible and are identified as vulnerable.

You can find a list of the authorised agents who are available.

If you are wanting to apply for food and/or utility support, and it's your first time applying or you are applying for the temporary additional award described at the top of this page, you can contact the fund's administrator to apply on 01904 550030.

Proactive Actions

The Ellam Protocol is a national scheme being introduced by police in partnership with other agencies, it supports people with mental health issues and those who care for them, to provide information to the police that will help to locate that person should they go missing.

We Care Scheme - North Yorkshire Police

The We Care scheme looks to provide a sense of safety and independence for those who may be more vulnerable and enables the police to provide them with a better level of service. It also provides important information to the police about a scheme member, so if they ever need to dial 999 or 101, the police are aware of any special needs the caller has and can assist them and provide a level of service in line with their requirements.

We care information
form.pdf

| THE ELLAM PROTOCOL

Are you struggling with mental ill health or support a family member/friend who is? Are you a carer/support worker of those experiencing mental ill health?

The Ellam Protocol has been developed following concerns raised about reporting someone missing at a time when they may be experiencing mental ill health or crisis. The scheme will be used by police across the Gwent area along with partners from other agencies.

This protocol aims to provide information to support the police in their role in locating a missing vulnerable person.

COMPLETING THE FORM

The form is made up of two parts, and both must be completed.

The first part of the form:

- is to be completed in advance and will provide personal information to support the police in their work to locate the individual;
- should be completed by the individual themselves, and could be completed as part of the crisis planning with a health or social care worker, carer, family member or friend;
- once completed this will be stored electronically in police systems so it can be easily located in the event the subject of the protocol goes missing. The person completing the form should provide any future updated information to CrimePrevention@gwent.police.uk.

The second part of the form:

- is completed by an officer when an individual is reported missing to police;
- it provides information about the individual on the day they are reported;
- must be provided along with Part One to support the police by providing information on the persons' current circumstances.

People must regularly review completed forms to ensure they are up to date, accurate and relevant. If the form is used as part of the crisis planning process then it must be reviewed as part of the review of the crisis plan.

Major Incident Response Team North Yorkshire

Website - Major Incident Response Team | North Yorkshire Council

The team works closely with multi-agency professionals, such as the police, local authorities and coroners, to provide confidential support to anyone who may find themselves caught up in an incident or event that is outside of normal life.

Examples could include:

- road traffic accidents
- sudden deaths
- community evacuations
- witnessing or being caught up in larger emergencies.

The team comprises a group of trained volunteers who offer their time to help with emotional and practical support. All members are trained in mental health and psychological first aid, along with safeTALK, applied suicide intervention skills training and assisting those bereaved by suicide. The team have also received training from other professional organisations such as Cruse Bereavement, Alzheimer's Society and Autism Awareness.

Who the team supports

In the immediate aftermath of a major incident many people will be affected. They may be survivors of the incident, relatives of the survivors or those who die, or they may be affected simply by being involved in the response to the incident.

Some of these people may need trauma support after such an incident, but in a short time they recover sufficiently to readjust to some sort of normality. Some people, however, will need a higher level of trauma support for some time after the incident and a few will need continued support over many years. This also applies to anyone involved in the rescue and support.
